Let Us Host Your Content!

Make your book available for free via OpenLibrary.org

OpenLibrary.org is a user-editable project. You can create a free account on Open Library to create a page for your book.

https://openlibrary.org/account/create

You can upload the book to Archive.org and link to that copy.

https://archive.org/account/login.createaccount.php

You can choose a particular Creative Commons license for your work, or make a custom rights statement. Put contact information with the item if you want people to get ahold of you. More details

https://openlibrary.org/help/faq/about#upload

Host your content for free at the Internet Archive

We would love to host your digital artifacts. Please contribute books, audio, and video files that you have the right to share. The Internet Archive, a non-profit library, will provide free storage and access to them.

https://archive.org/create/https://archive.org/create.php?lma=1 (for the live music archive)

Archive.org
"Universal access to all knowledge" OpenLibrary.org
"One web page for every book"